PERSONALITY PLUS

For interior designer Cristi Holcombe, this was a dream project. Along with the homeowner, she and her team created the looks from the ground up. The new construction for a fantastic young family of four provided a dreamy blank palette.

"The wife, who's in real estate, brought so much vision to the project," says Cristi. "We focused on making it elegant yet totally livable, perfect for the gatherings she loves to host - she's a natural at planning the perfect party!"

The design is anchored in a neutral palette with rich textures and warm white oak accents that flow through the house for a seamless feel.

One of the designer's favorite features is the kitchen's hidden walk-in pantry, blending right into the cabinetry for a sleek, functional look.
